APPEAL OF SLD DECISION REGARDING FUNDING PERIOD FOR NETWORK INSTALLATION MANAGEMENT (NIMS) CONTRACT

The Guam Department of Education (GDOE) appeals the decision made by the Schools and Libraries Division (SLD) regarding the termination date of the contract for Network Installation Management Services (NIMS).

Facts

1. The GDOE issued a bid for NIMS services (See Attachment 1) to support the management of school wiring, network equipment, and voice PBX system contracts in accordance with local procurement rules and the competitive bidding requirements of the SLD.
2. The installation of school wiring, installation of network equipment, and installation of voice PBX systems were bid separately and won by three different companies.
3. A fixed percentage price list cost proposal for the NIMS was necessary since it is not possible to determine in advance the cost and extensiveness of a bid for school wiring network equipment, and PBX systems that may be purchased over a period of time and subject to SLD approval.
4. The bid for the NIMS services (See Attachment 2) was based on a percentage of the cost of installation of school wiring and other network technologies (e.g. ATM Access Devices, routers, switches, and servers.). This use of a percentage of cost for installation is a standard method for awarding installation management contracts.

5. The NIMS bid award (See Attachment 3) was made to M.E. International (MEI) for a period of two years. The contract was to end on January 31, 2005.
6. The Price List contract with MEI established a firm fixed percentage of the total cost of the project involving school wiring, network equipments, and PBX systems. During the two year period of time, any award for SLD services would use this Price List contract for services.
7. In January 2004, the GDOE applied for funding to SLD for (a) the installation of school wiring, (b) purchase and installation of network equipment, (c) PBX systems, and (d) network installation management services.
8. The SLD awarded the funding for school wiring, purchase and installation of network equipment, and PBX systems to the three separate vendors.
9. The reference numbers for the request for funding for the NIMS follows:
GDOE Form 471 Application Number: 412174
GDOE FRN Number: 1130920
GDOE Form 470 Application Number: 298600000418974
10. The SLD only partially awarded funding for the NIMS, based on a contract ending date of January 31, 2005. The rationale of the SLD is that the contract for services ended on that date. Therefore, the funding amount was reduced on a pro-rata monthly basis for 7 months of services, even though the contracts for the actual installation of the school wiring and equipment could be implemented until September 30, 2005.
11. The GDOE appealed (Attachment 4) the partial award made by the SLD.
12. The SLD decision stated that the appeal was denied on the basis that the contract termination date was January 31, 2005 (Attachment 5).

Reason for Appeal

The Guam Department of Education (GDOE) appeals the decision to the FCC for two separate reasons.

1. The GDOE contract award for the NIMS service is structured as a Price List for Goods or Services for a period of time. Under a Price List award for a good or service, the contract value will be dependent upon the ultimate cost of a purchase for a good or for a service during the whole period of time. This is no different than a GSA Price List schedule for a good or service.
Under a Price List contract for a good or service, the purchaser may initiate a purchase of the good or service up until the last day of the contract. The vendor awarded the contract must deliver the service in accordance with the contract, even though the actual delivery date of the good or service may be later than the ending date of the Price List contract. For example, if the General Services Administration (GSA) established a price list contract for microcomputers (goods) that would expire on January 31, 2005, a purchaser could buy a microcomputer on the schedule on the very last day, January 31, 2005. The vendor would have to deliver the microcomputer in accordance with the Price List even thought the delivery would obviously pass the date of the schedule. Further, even if a vendor had a problem in delivering the equipment, the purchaser would normally be granted an extension of time.

Under a schedule for a service – say the time for a computer specialist, a purchaser of the service could purchase on the schedule with a delivery to be completed during a period of time.

The same general rules and practices apply in the Guam Department of Education.

In the case of the GDOE NIMS contract, the Price List for the NIMS service was for a period of two years. During this time, the Price List for the NIMS prevailed.

The GDOE used this Price List contract award for a service that was to expire at the same time as the installation of the school wiring, network equipment, and PBX systems.

As such, the contract is well within the scope of the Price List contract and the GDOE award and application for funding to the SLD was within the 2 year period of the Price List award.

There should not have been a reduction of 7 months, limiting the delivery of the service until only January 31, 2005.

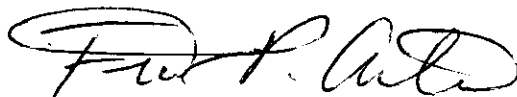

2. The GDOE, notwithstanding any of the above issue, has the local procurement authority to extend a contract, if it is in the interest of the GDOE to do so.

Procurement contracts in state and local governments are often extended for periods of time. Even if it were not a Price List contract, the GDOE would have extended the contract in accordance with local procurement rules since it would not have made sense for the GDOE to have potentially separate NIMS contractors manage a single project.

The GDOE operates under the belief that the FCC rules provide for local procurement policies and rules and regulations to govern. The GDOE rules provide for this NIMS contract to be extended to cover the full period as provided for in the GDOE application for funding.

The GDOE appreciates the opportunity to appeal the decision. Please let us know if there is any further information that you may require.

Respectfully submitted this 3rd day of June, 2005.

Dear Sirs/Madams:

SUBJECT: IFB: 003-2003

We are pleased to submit the following Technical Proposal for Part 6: Network Installation Management Services.

Please find enclosed the following:

Bid Submission Form
Affidavit of Disclosure of Major Shareholders
Statement of Qualifications (In Letter and in Technical Proposal)
Copy of Current Business License

Additionally, we have enclosed the signed page of the IFB General Terms and Conditions.

Technical Proposal – Please see attached envelope
Cost Proposal: (See Sealed Envelope)
Our SPIN Number is: 143020404.

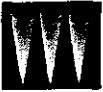

Marianas Electronics International, Inc. understands the difficulties that the GDOE has been facing since the typhoons in the past year and we are pleased that the GDOE has been able to resume its bid process.

Statement of Qualifications

M.E. International, Inc. (MEI) is a Guam based company that has been providing computer, networking, cabling, wireless networks, and other goods and services in Guam. The company is in good standing with the government of Guam. The qualifications of the company to capably do the work required by the above bid are unqualified.

M.E. International, Inc.

MiTech International & M.E.I. Marketing Group

Voice (671) 637-4441/2, 632-5310 • Facsimile (671) 637-4230 • e-mail: carl@mittech.guam.net

MEI has served as the project coordinator for the Inter-Island Systems Development and Integration (ISDI) on the Guam GENET and as the Prime Contractor for the E-Rate network equipment and integration for the Public School System of the Commonwealth of the Northern Marianas Islands. MEI has been providing local support and networking services as its core business. The MEI Team also includes personnel from the Telecommunications and Information Policy Group and Dr. Norman Okamura, a recognized consultant in the region. MEI has well-qualified based personnel, experience, and a track record to provide this assistance.

More detail on the company qualifications are in the Technical Proposal.

* * * * *

MEI recognizes the size and scale of the project and is very concerned that other Bidders may not fully appreciate the level of work required and the number of hours that will be needed. The installation and wiring is a major problem, but when coupled with the integration with the existing WAN and the new telephones, video teleconferencing systems, and possible video teleconferencing services, the work takes on an even more complexity. GDOE requires a strong and capable team to assist the GDOE in managing the project. MEI is concerned that other Bidders may not fully appreciate the nature of the work.

MEI further recognizes that the NIMS support is especially important given the nature of the current situation in Guam. MEI understands the budgetary constraints, staffing shortages and difficulties in recovering from the typhoons and its impacts. The MEI Team is committed to supporting the GDOE to implement its plans for GENET. MEI urges the evaluation committee to carefully and critically review the credentials, qualifications and track record of the MEI Team, including those of the MEI Team. All the claims that are being made about the experiences of the MEI Team can be verified.
